with Betty Allen...

Although the boys haven't been pinned down to a definite date, the foot race scheduled to be run by Gene Hodges and Jack Murdock is drawing even money. Gene Hodges is still on his vacation in Yellowstone Park, where he is reputed to be training for the big event and is expected to return "in the pink of condition". . . . On the other hand, Jack Murdock is being referred to as "superman" since he won his match in the tennis tournament immediately after giving a blood donation. It looks like a good contest. . . .

Haven't yet seen Georginne Lloyd's jeep but certainly want to. Understand it has received a "decorator's touch" in the way of a chartreuse paint job liberally sprinkled with hearts and flowers. Georginne and her mother had a lot of fun doing it.

A new attraction on Campbell Ave. is the bulletin board outside the Methodist Church. The board, in addition to the pastor's name, will bear notices concerning the church activities and religious messages.

The Campbell Taxi Company had one of its most unique customers the other day . . . a dog! Seems that the dog's mistress, Louise of Clark's-Drugs, arrived at work only to find that, like Mary and her little lamb, her errand dog was with her. She marched him across the street and sent him home by cab!

Ray Tomasso of The Press traveled over 200 miles last weekend to go deer hunting. He returned home empty handed, only to find that his friends had bagged two only a few miles from Alum Rock Park.

A small boy had the tennis tournament spectators howling one night last week. He told bystanders that he sure would like to play tennis that evening. A sympathizer pointed out a girl about his age standing near and suggested he ask her. "But she's only got one racquet," was his answer.

The Press now has on its mailing galleys some far flung addresses due to the peace-time rolings of its readers. The paper is going to Germany, England, Honolulu and Guatemala, where the Paul Beckers are living. In the very near future, a letter from Vivian Becker will be published giving the exciting details of their long trip to their new home which took a month.

Library Closed

The library closed yesterday and will remain closed until Sept. 4 in order that it may be renovated inside and out. Club meetings and other activities will continue in the library hall.

The Country Woman's Club is having a new roof put on the library and the building painted inside and out. Members of the club built the library several years ago and have maintained it since. People with books from the library may keep them until Sept. 4 without paying a fine for delinquency.

Hunt Foods Inc. Paying Highest Wages in History

The highest wages ever paid by the cannery industry are now being paid at Hunt Foods Inc., on the night shift, according to Frank Silva, cannery executive. Women workers on this shift receive 93½ cents per hour and $1.40 per hour for overtime.

A concerted effort is being made to recruit more women workers for the night shift, since the peach crop, now being canned, is the largest in history. Many predict that this year will be 200,000 tons ahead of 1930's bumper crop.

The nation's canneries are under pressure from the government to turn out record productions of canned goods to be used in feeding a starving, world and the canneries in turn need more workers than usual to meet the demands.

In order to stimulate workers to bring more women for night shift work, Hunt Foods Inc. is running a contest in the local cannery, formerly Drew's Canning Co. First prize consists of two cases fruit and vegetables, one case assorted fruit or any one fruit and two pair of nylon hose. Second prize is one case of assorted fruit or vegetables and two pair nylon hose. A half case of fruit or vegetables and one pair of nylons make up the third prize with 12 additional prizes of one pair of nylons each.

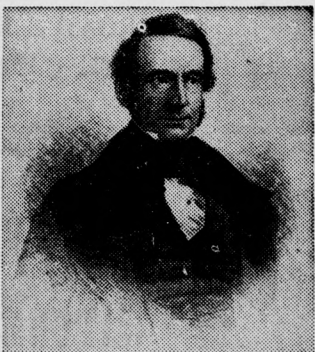

For each additional worker brought to the personnel office the contestant receives one point for each day worked or two points for each night shift worked. Any worker at Hunt's is eligible and at the end of the season prizes will be awarded to those with the highest scores.

Also being used to recruit workers is a car equipped with a loud speaker which drives about the streets. Potential workers are told the advantages of working at Hunt's, the high wages paid and our responsibilities to the hungry world.

Now being canned, in addition to peaches, are fruit cocktail, fruit salad and pears.

California Press Celebrates 100th Anniversary Of First Newspaper

It was on Aug. 15, 1846, that the first issue of the Monterey Californian, destined to be California's first newspaper, was run off on an ancient Spanish press. Today that single newspaper has grown to approximately 577 daily and weekly newspapers throughout the State.

As we read the histories of some of the oldest California newspapers in existence today—those which unlike the Monterey Californian, did not fade from the earth after a short period of publication, we read of their struggles to survive earthquakes, fires and political corruption and still today be among the few nearing the century mark in years of continual publication.

Story of Founding

The story of the founding of the Monterey Californian is interesting.

Final Rites For Mrs. Wellington

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning in the Amos O. Williams, Co. chapel for Mrs. Ida Wellington, who died at her Campbell home on the San Jose-Los Gatos Road last Friday. Mrs. Wellington, due to her community interest and the unselfish and generous aspects of her character, will be greatly missed by her host of friends.

A member of a Hanford pioneer family, she graduated from Hanford High School and San Jose State Normal School. She was an active member of the San Jose First Methodist Church.

In Campbell she participated actively in the Women's Society of Christian Service, the Country Woman's Club, the Service Club and the PTA. Mrs. Wellington was always ready to devote her time and efforts to Red Cross drives and Community Chest work also.

She is survived by her husband, Arthur Wellington; three children, Mrs. Jeanette A. Frerichs of Tracy, Arthur Stewart and Robert W. Wellington of Campbell; 11 brothers and sisters and two grandchildren.

Young People Plan Costume Dance

Members of the Roost are planning a costume dance for this Saturday evening at the Scout Hall. Those attending are asked to come as their favorite comic characters.

On the committee for the affair are Miss Denny Catron, Miss Bernell Ellison and Bud Whitmore.

Dancing will start at 7:30 and there will be prizes for the best costumes.

On Friday evening the group will have a swimming party at Alum Rock Park.

Every Monday evening at 7:30 the group has a meeting to which all young people are invited.

Finals in Tennis Match To Be Played

The first of the four championships in the Campbell tennis tournament will be decided next Sunday evening when Bob Magnuson and Dan Clark will oppose Harold Drummond and Jack Murdock for the men's doubles title. Clark and Magnuson advanced to the title round by virtue of their defeat of Ray Fish Jr. and Sr. in the semi-finals, 6-1, 7-5. Murdock and Drummond reached the finals by disposing of George Phillips and Nick Reid by scores of 6-4, and 6-2, in what was regarded as an upset. The finals is regarded as a toss-up, with a little advantage, if any, going to the team of Murdock-Drummond. The event will be announced over a public address system installed at the courts because of the number of tennis fans and curious onlookers at all matches.

As was expected, Mrs. Helen Powell reached the title round of women's singles in which she will be opposed by Mrs. Mary Drummond. Mrs. Powell will be heavily favored in this match, principally because of her previous tournament experience and sound all-around game. The opinion of observers is that Mrs. Powell is the best woman player ever to live in Campbell. Their match will be played sometime next week, as will the finals of the mixed doubles, which brings together Mr. and Mrs. Drummond against Mr. and Mrs. Powell. The Powells are again favored in this match, but it would be no great upset, should the Drummonds win. Either way you look at it, Carlyn Ave. is sure to come out ahead, inasmuch as both contestants are neighbors there.

In the men's singles, there is still a dog fight to determine who will oppose whom in the finals. Bill Rickers, one of the surprises of the tournament thus far, will oppose George Phillips in the upper half of the draw, with Phillips enjoying the role of favorite. In the lower half, Bob Magnuson and Ray Fish Jr. will battle it out in the semi-finals. Both Bob and Ray play a very hard, aggressive game, and the abilities of the two are about on a par. Opinion is about evenly divided as to the outcome of this match. It should be one of the most interesting ones to watch of all singles matches played to date.

Baptist Church Officers Elected

Recently the First Baptist Church of Campbell was organized, calling as its pastor, Rev. W. C. Ferguson, formerly of Sacramento. Rev. and Mrs. Ferguson have moved into their home on Harrison St., purchased through G. E. Farley, realtor.

Last Sunday officers were elected for the new group. They consist of D. B. Seale for the Adults; W. C. Ferguson for the Young People; Mrs. W. C. Ferguson for the teen agers; Mrs. Euva L. Galaway for the Juniors; and Mrs. C. R. Williams for the little children.

Representatives of the church met with the Golden Gate Baptist Association, convening in San Jose last Monday and the church was received into that District Association.

The Campbell church will be received into the Southern Baptist California Convention this fall and into the Southern Baptist Convention of the United States this coming spring which meets in St. Louis, Missouri.

MRS. PETERS' FATHER DIES

Friends are extending sympathy to Mrs. Elsie Peters, whose father, Justin Lassale, died in San Jose last Saturday. Funeral services for the elderly man, a native of France, were conducted at the Darling and Fischer Garden Chapel on Tuesday afternoon and interment at the Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Campbell Man Aboard Missing Yacht

John P. Flatkin, 10 S. Third, is a member of the crew which set out from Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 6, aboard a 98-foot yacht, Morning Star, which has been unreported since Aug. 7. The vessel, a two-masted staysail rigged yacht, owned by Richard S. Rheem of Acadia, was en route to Panama.

School To Start September 16

It will only be a month until school bells ring again for Campbell students. Monday, Sept. 16 is the date set for the opening of the fall term for both the Campbell Union High School and Grammar School.

Opening school date is determined by the progress of the prune crop in order that students may help the ranchers with both the picking and the drying.

Of interest to the children, whose returning steps may be a little hesitant, are the holidays to be observed by the schools during the school year.

First holiday on the calendar will be Armistice Day, Nov. 11, followed by a vacation from Nov. 25 to 29 for Thanksgiving and Teachers' Institute.

Christmas is next with school closed from Dec. 23 to Jan. 3, inclusive, then there's a long drag until Easter, when the holidays are from March 31 to April 4, inclusive.

May 30, Memorial Day, will be the last holiday before school closes on June 13, 1947.

First Post-War County Fair Planned

Santa Clara County will hold its first post-war fair, Sept. 17 to 22.

Place will be the new hundred-acre fair grounds, two and one-half miles south of San Jose on Highway 101, which first was used for the Santa Clara County Fair in 1941.

This year's Fair will be a million-dollar event. The Fair will serve as the showcase of Santa Clara County in which its agricultural, horticultural, and floricultural products will be displayed. At the same time, the Fair will have a wide variety of industrial exhibits, including many new products and manufactures developed since the war.

During its six days, the Santa Clara County Fair will feature livestock and poultry shows, a horse show and track events, fruit, flower, and vegetable displays, women's handicraft, including home-canned fruits, vegetables and preserves, a junior division with exhibits by 4-H Club members and Future Farmers, industrial exhibits, an art show, an impressive military demonstration, free dancing, carnival shows, and a spectacular program of free entertainment.

Santa Clara County held its first County Fair in the pioneering fifties, continued it annually for 30 years. When the annual county affair was resumed in 1941, the gate for the six days totaled 47,000 paid admissions. Visitors came from all over the State.

This year, more than 75,000 paid admissions are expected, according to County Fair President, Ray D. Hartman.

Acreage of the grounds has been increased from 90 in 1941, to 104 now and is being landscaped. The 14 acres which have been added comprise a parking space for patrons on Tully Road, across from the main grounds.

New lighting is being installed, and President Hartman promises "the finest lighted fair ever held in California."

When the owner failed to receive a daily report from the ship, the Coast Guard was notified and an aerial search was made off the New Jersey coast.

Members of the Coast Guard believe that the contact with the boat may have been lost due to failure of the radio transmitter but another air-sea search is being organized which will envelop a larger area than the first search.

Mrs. Flatkin did not learn of the disappearance of the boat until Monday evening when she read about it in a San Jose newspaper. Since then she has been in daily contact with the Coast Guard.

Flatkin was recently released after several months in the Maritime Service, during which time he was stationed in San Francisco as an instructor in the cooking school.

Prior to his Maritime service he served for more than three years in the Army, and since he was able to speak German fluently, often served as an interpreter.

He was serving as chef aboard the missing yacht after a wait of a month in New York while a new mast was installed in the ship.

Flatkin's home was originally in Long Beach, but Mrs. Flatkin and her two daughters, Bernell and Myrna Ellison, came to Campbell to make their home near Mrs. Flatkin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fairchild, after he was sent overseas while serving in the Army.

A nephew of the missing man, Robert Fairchild, had tentatively planned on accompanying his uncle on the voyage, but was prevented at the last minute by the reappearance of the man whose place he was to take.

Angusich House Destroyed by Fire

Two blackened chimneys and some twisted debris, identified as a stove, hot water heater, bath tub and the legs of a sewing machine are all that remain of George Angusich's house which was completely destroyed by fire last Friday afternoon.

So complete was the conflagration that not a board remains and the neat little front lawn with its trimmed shrubs leads only to a rectangular surface of grey ashes.

Angusich was asleep in the house when his next door neighbor, Mrs. O. F. Hawkinson, noticed the back porch blazing and called help. Another neighbor, T. R. Tock, succeeded in arousing Angusich by calling to him through a window.

Since the scene of the fire was outside the Campbell fire district, Alma responded to the call and asked for help from the Campbell department. One truck was sent from here and since there was no hydrant the truck connected with a faucet on the neighboring house and assisted Alma in keeping the blaze from spreading to the garage or the neighboring houses.

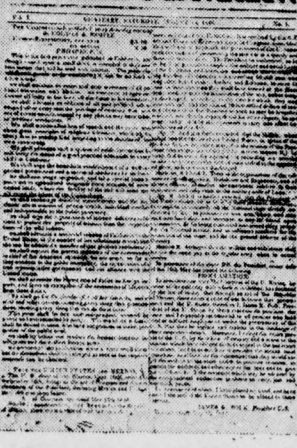

The fire was believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion originating on the back porch where Angusich was keeping the materials he was using in painting the house.

So intense was the blaze that trees several yards from the house were scorched.

EVENING GUILD TO MEET

St. Lucy's Evening Guild will meet Thursday evening, Aug. 22, at 8 p. m., in the church hall for a social evening of games. All members are invited to attend and bring a friend. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Ann Dardanelli and Miss Angie Turturici.

If enough signatures are secured to put incorporation on the ballot the success of the measure in the election will depend to a large extent on the caliber of the men running for office as councilmen.

They must be men with vision, concerned with the good of the whole and with no axes to grind. The responsibilities will be heavy and the criticisms no doubt will be many.

Campbell has many men who can fit the bill and have, in addition to their capability, the respect of their fellow townsmen, and it is to be hoped that, in the event of an election for incorporation, they will consider running for office.

It should be a privilege and an honor to serve one's community and also the duty of every voter to see that the men elected receive the support and cooperation of the town in the exercising of their duties.

The groves were God's first temples, Then I went forth, with a blessing,
Came ringing to my ears, My life seemed a thing apart,

SPECTRE OF ANOTHER WAR
EN ROUTE TO PARIS. — Underway in the palace of Luxembourg is the conference on which so many mothers set their hearts, for which so many mothers' sons gave their lives—the conference to win the peace.

Some 13,000,000 men in the American armed forces alone fought four long years—with the hope that it might be the last time human beings would have to go through the terrible ordeal of war.

In the Paris conference the climax of their dreams, and already disillusionment has begun to set in. Already the dreams are tinged with nightmare—the spectre of another war.

Here are some of the distressing facts this conference has to face in trying to chart the peace of the world:

1. Historians criticized Woodrow Wilson because he was slow in negotiating peace. But he got started two months after the armistice and finished six months later, a total of eight months after the war. In contrast, it is now almost one year after the armistice with Japan and 15 months after the armistice with Germany, yet the final peace conference is only getting started.

2. The longer peace is delayed, the more the Allies fall out; the more the other nations forget their gratitude. So the longer the delay, the harder it is to negotiate a permanent peace.

3. Russia deliberately has endeavored to postpone the peace. This conference could have been held long ago if the Soviet had not said no.

DELAY TACTICS PLANNED

Moscow's delay tactics were by no means accidental. They were carefully planned, and with three motives behind them:

A. The longer peace was delayed the more time Russia got to nail down its hold on the Balkan satellites—Hungary, Austria. Anti-Russian factions had to be stamped out; pro-Russian factions trained to carry on. This could not be done overnight.

B. The more uncertainty and unrest occurred in the non-Soviet-occupied countries—France, Belgium, the Netherlands—the greater the likely growth of Communism.

C. Finally, Moscow did not want the Red armies converging back to Russia. There wasn't food to feed them, and their quick return risked economic, political turn-overs.

Thus, ever since V-J Day, Russia has been the greatest obstacle to early peace.

AMERICANS NOT BLAMELESS
In this peace conference, however, not everything is black or white. There is some gray shading in between.

And in real fact, American diplomacy during the early stages of this greatest of all diplomatic endeavors was just as guilty of sabotaging the peace as the Russians—perhaps more so. I say more so, because we pride ourselves on being more advanced, more alert, more idealistic.

Yet actually, our diplomats were just as woefully unprepared for peace as the army and navy were for war at Pearl Harbor. When it should have been ready for the most important peace offensive in history of the world, the State Department was caught completely napping.

Congress has spent several months of intensive study to ascertain who was responsible for Pearl Harbor; yet no one has lifted a finger to probe the equally important disaster of our unpreparedness for peace.

If senators probed the files of the State Department, or even their own files, significant facts would come to light.

Campbell Court Notes

By Judge Blaine

A dog ran up close to a passing boy and barked at him. The boy kicked at the dog. The dog barked harder and growled. The boy picked up a rock and threw it at the dog. The owner of the dog came out of a nearby house and swore at the boy. The boy reported the incident to his father, who wanted the owner of the dog arrested for using profanity in the presence of a child.

A variation of this incident would be for the two older men to have a fight. And something of the sort, caused by a dog or something else, happens not far off about every day. It is fitting, therefore, that we have an example of a very different attitude.

Say, a dog chases a cyclist and barks. The cyclist slows up and in a kindly voice says, "Nice doggy. Wonderful doggy. So nice, so wonderful."

The dog pauses for an instant in amazement. But he doesn't want to be cheated out of his fun, and so he barks again and makes a bluffing charge. The cyclist dismounts, saying, "Come on doggy, I like your looks. Come on." But the dog backs away. Just then the owner of the dog comes out of a nearby house, and the cyclist says, "Nice dog of yours. Naturally, being a dog, he likes to bark."

"Yes, he likes to bark; but he never bites anybody."

"I like dogs. Some of them are more human than some people."

"You said a mouthful. Wait, don't hurry. Let me give you a few ripe peaches off this tree here."

"Thanks, I'm fond of peaches. Gee, this one is good. Good bye. Glad I met you and your dog."

"Good bye. Hope to see you again."

Romance of Food

By LARRY BLAKE

Swiss lake-dwellers knew about peas and liked them so much that they were a regular part of their diet thousands of years before Athens and Rome were even thought of. We know that because peas, preserved by some strange process, have been found among the debris of their ancient villages.

They probably came from Asia originally as part of the Aryan migrations—that's been the term since long before Hitler was born. At last, such theory seems plausible because of the marked similarity between our word "pea" and the word used to classify the same vegetable by many other races, including the Greeks and Romans.

An interesting characteristic of the pea lies in its strength. For example, Corn looks strong. In comparison the pea looks weak. Yet, of the two, peas are far stronger. To illustrate. Once a field of peas gets a close cover they occupy the ground so completely that no weed of any kind can live beneath their vines.

An appetizing and a trifle "different" way to prepare peas is this: Mash 2½ pounds of peeled, freshly boiled potatoes mixed with ¼ cup of butter, ¼ cup of hot milk and salt. Mix until stiff. Drain and save the liquor from a large can of peas. To this add 3 table-spoons of butter, flour, salt, ½ cup hot milk. Mix into sauce on stove. Into this stir shredded cheese; mix in peas. Spread potato on bottom and sides of casserole; pour creamed peas into center. Put layer of potatoes on top. Brown in oven and serve.

"Guesstimate" Incorporation Expenses

Because so many people have professed an interest in the probable expenses of government under incorporation, the executive committee of the Campbell Taxpayers' Association has worked out an estimate of what the expenses might be.

It is impossible to do more than estimate these figures since the actual decisions concerning expenditures would be the business of the elected council, but the figures are arrived at by comparison with incorporated areas and in all cases are only approximate "guesstimates".

City which Campbell would be in the event of incorporation, a minimum of five councilmen would be necessary, but the number could be increased to seven if considered advisable. These councilmen would serve the city in an honorary capacity and would not be paid. The councilman receiving the greatest number of votes at the election would become mayor.

It would only be necessary to elect two additional officers—the city clerk, a full time job; and the city treasurer, a part time job. The other necessary officers would be appointed by the councilmen.

Armed Forces Leave Act

Attention, Veterans! Here are five important points regarding the Armed Forces Leave Act:

1. Settlement for unused leave or furlough will be made in non-negotiable bonds maturing in five years and bearing 2½ per cent interest.
2. Whether you get your bond next month or six months from now, it will still be dated from the time of your discharge.
3. Claim forms and instructions will be available at post offices within 45 days.
4. Do not write to the armed services regarding your settlements. Numerous letters of inquiry will only delay payments.
5. If you have any questions after filling out your claim form consult your State or county veteran's service office.

Veterans who will benefit from the Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946 are requested NOT to write to the armed services in regard to claims. Settlement will be made in non-negotiable bonds maturing in five years and bearing two and one-half per cent interest. These bonds will be dated from the time of your discharge. It will, therefore, make little difference whether you receive your bond within a month of six months. In any event, numerous letters of inquiry addressed to the armed services will only delay the orderly procedure of payment. Do not visit any of the paying offices in person. Claims will be handled by mail only. Claim forms and instructions will be available at all post offices throughout the country within 45 days. If you have any questions, after filling out these forms, consult your local community advisory or information center or your State or county veteran's service officer.

Science Scratches Poison Ivy Off List

Science has happy tidings this summer for American vacationists allergic to that "Dracula" of summer vegetation known as poison ivy. The good news comes in the form of a new war-born chemical called 2-4-D (Dichlorophenoxyacetic acid), now available to operators of vacation playgrounds and owners of summer homes and camps.

When sprayed on poison ivy plants, this new running mate of the other new chemical wonder, DDT, will render the obnoxious weed totally harmless. The nasty stuff collapses soon after spraying, as the chemical penetrates to the very roots of the plant and the plant actually strangles to death. Experiments conducted by scientists show that 1600 square feet of a weed-infested area can be covered with approximately $1.00 worth of the chemical 2-4-D.

Each year additional thousands who have never contracted the malady before find themselves no longer immune; therefore cutting or pulling the plants and roots out by hand is a chance not worth risking. It has also been proved that ivy poisoning may be contracted merely by getting smoke on the body from fires in which the plants are being burned; therefore the method of killing them by spraying not only is simple and effective today, but eliminates any danger of a person becoming sensitized.

Once the ivy poisoning enters the blood stream the victim is usually faced with six more years of summer misery before it "burns" itself out. Merely being near the plant growth, even without actual contact, often causes a recurrence, according to past surveys of the malady.

In summers to come, vacationing nomads will wander through sprayed woodland areas in most sections of the country without fear of this vacation-spoiler, thus proving that science has marched on ahead.

Busier now than ever before

If you've wondered why there is sometimes a delay before you get the operator, here is the reason...

Telephone switchboards generally are serving more customers... who are placing more calls... than ever before. At times, the volume is so great that we are unable to answer each call as promptly as we would like.

We are rushing the equipment we need to take care of all waiting applicants and to furnish a better service than ever to all telephone users. But the job is a big one... and it will take time.

We want you to know that our operators are doing everything they can to furnish you the prompt and courteous service you have been accustomed to. Thank you.

Parties Join In Approval of School Measure

State leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties joined this week in approval of Proposition 3, the November ballot proposal which would set a $2400 minimum annual salary for California school teachers.

Colonel James Roosevelt, chairman of the Democratic party in California, and Edward S. Shattuck, vice-chairman of the Republican party in the State, endorsed the measure in statements made public by the California Teachers Association.

Roosevelt said: "Teachers are alarmingly scarce and disgracefully underpaid. California revenues cannot be extended for any purpose as important as that which provides for adequate schooling of all our children."

"I earnestly recommend approval of this important measure by the people. Proposition 3 is an educational Bill of Rights for the coming generation."

Shattuck declared: "Forty thousand new teachers must be found to meet mounting enrollments, which in the elementary schools alone are expected to double in the next eight years. Young people, however, are not training for teaching careers, for the practical reason that rewards are far higher in fields requiring far less training, education and experience."

"Proposition 3 was designed to meet this crisis. It will safeguard the future of California's children by assuring sufficient, high caliber teaching personnel, and by enabling local school districts to meet the cost of providing needed classrooms and other facilities."

The Teachers Association said that one of the campaign slogans for the November balloting will be "Both Parties Agree It's YES on 3." Republican and Democratic State committees unanimously gave Proposition 3 their official endorsements at conventions in Sacramento in July.

Take Wedding Trip To Mexico

At a quiet, simple ceremony performed last Friday morning by Justice of the Peace John D. Blaine, Miss Frances Musler became the bride of Howell Conley. For the occasion the bride chose a blue suit with white accessories, complimented by a corsage of carnations.

Present at the reading of the marriage lines were Mr. and Mrs. Vince Houchin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Musler, 30 N. First St., and is employed at the Taste Good Bakery. The benedict is the son of Alfred B. Conley and was discharged from the service last November.

Now on a wedding trip to Southern California and Mexico, the young couple will make their home on Casey Road on their return.

State Bar Proposes Court Revisions

More than 500 township, police, and city courts of California with jurisdictions below that of the Superior Court are failing to give the people the type of service demanded in a modern, growing State, and possible now under a unified system of County Courts.

This is the gist of the annual report of the Committee on County Courts filed recently with the State Bar of California. Before the committee's County Court Plan is presented to the Legislature, it will be debated at the convention of the State Bar of California in Coronado, Sept. 24-28. At that time proponents and opponents will analyze the constitutional amendment proposed by the committee with the view to making it as sound and practical as possible.

According to the report, instead of the "antiquated patchwork" of overlapping and conflicting jurisdictions, untrained and underpaid personnel, and inefficient jumble which now characterizes the present "system", the committee proposes that these courts, which serve 90 per cent of the people, shall be as well administered as the higher courts. The committee proposes:

1. The abolition of the six classes of overlapping inferior courts, and establishment of a unified system of County Courts for each county.

2. This unified system will serve wherever the present courts now serve by means of (a) a staff of adequately trained judges with salaries sufficient to attract the best talent on a full time basis, and (b) a system of county court commissioners to serve the ministerial needs of the courts throughout the counties, in communities large and small.

In particular the proposed amendment provides for the following:

1. That a single court be established in each county below the jurisdiction of the Superior Court.

2. That such County Court be given jurisdiction of all civil cases as is provided for Municipal Courts (generally speaking a $2000 limitation) and of all misdemeanors, with power in the Legislature to change this.

3. That the number of judges for the court be one for each 40,000 of population, or fraction thereof, with power in the Legislature to alter this number.

4. That the judges must have been admitted to practice law for at least five years.

5. That these judges be and remain residents of the county and be subject to a county-wide election.

6. That the salaries of these judges be fixed at not less than 85 per cent of the salaries of Superior Court judges in the same county and that their salaries and the salaries of commissioners be paid by the State.

7. That upon the plan becoming effective, all Municipal and City Court judges and Justices of the Peace, having the required qualifications, be blanketed into the new judgeships so far as possible, and that the Governor otherwise be given the power of selection and appointment. That the pension and retirement rights of such judges be preserved by legislation.

8. That where the County Court consists of two or more judges a presiding judge be selected by the Judicial Council; that such presiding judge be given the authority to assign cases and judges for sessions of the court; that this be enforced by a provision preventing judges from receiving their salaries unless they make affidavit that they have performed such assignments to the best of their ability.

9. That in order to make the court accessible to the people sessions shall be held in all incorporated cities, cities and counties, and towns and at such other places where sessions of courts inferior to the Superior Court are being held, unless the Legislature from time to time shall otherwise provide.

10. That the court shall be given the power to appoint Commissioners with power to arraign and fix bail, to impose sentence after a plea of guilty and to perform other functions within the jurisdiction of the County Court as may be prescribed by rules of the Judicial Council.

11. That, except for the salaries of the judges and commissioners, all the salaries of the attaches of the court, the expense of its housing and facilities and the mileage and travel expenses of judges and attaches in holding sessions of the court in places outside the county seat as prescribed by the Legislature, be paid by the counties. The Legislature, however, should be given power to provide for the payment of those expenses in whole or in part by the counties, cities and counties, cities and towns.

12. That provision be made by legislation for the blanketing in of marshals, constables, clerks, and reporters for the preservation of their civil service and retirement rights.

13. That provision be made for the equitable division of the courts' revenues among the cities, counties, and the State.

Former Student Married

A former Campbell High School graduate, Miss Alice Ann Cooney, became the bride of William M. Moore at a recent ceremony at St. Patrick's Church in San Jose. Msgr. Edward Maher officiated at the double ring ceremony, witnessed by 200 guests.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, John Cooney, wore a gown of white fashioned with a fitted faille bodice and bouffant net skirt with a train. A beaded crown held in place her lace-edged fingertip veil and she wore pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried an orchid with Stephanotis streamers on her white prayer book.

Attendants Dorothy Lindsay and Norma White, wore frocks of lace and net with horsehair hats. Their bouquets were pink carnations and white gladioli. Little Miss Minnie Lou Lindsay was flower girl.

Best man was Ralph E. Lin of Seattle, Wash., and ushers were Lt. Ralph Pietrobono, USN.; Robert Pietrobono of Monterey and David Cooney of Oakland.

Following the ceremony a garden reception was held at the bride's home, and when the couple departed on their wedding trip, she wore a white-wine suit with black and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

After graduating from high school here, the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cooney, attended the University of California. Her new husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Moore of Apopka, Fla., where the young couple will make their home after a wedding trip to Yosemite, Nevada, and Lake Tahoe.

GILROY BOY VISITS

Master Robin Wood of Gilroy is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barton Wood at 168 Sunnyside Ave., the home of Mrs. Wood's father, J. L. Ruhlen. Recent visitors at the Ruhlen home have been Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wood of Gilroy, Mrs. Cecil Keesling of Palo Alto, Mrs. Helen Fisher of Oakland, her son, Merrill Fisher of Gilroy, and his fiancée, Miss Yvonne Osburn of Morgan Hill.

Silver Anniversary Celebrated

One of the most delightful surprises of a lifetime was experienced by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Keesling last Sunday when their son, Charles, and daughter, Dorothy, arranged a surprise celebration in honor of their parents' 25th wedding anniversary.

While the Keeslings were eating dinner at a relative's, the young couple arranged tables in the garden and welcomed the more than 60 guests invited to the party. Movies were taken of the anniversary pair arriving home and greeting their unexpected guests.

Mrs. Keesling was presented with an orchid corsage, and her husband with a gay boutonniere. A large four-tiered wedding cake centered two punch bowls fashioned of ice and Miss Keesling assisted in serving the guests by Miss Dorothy Kimball of Los Gatos and Miss Yvonne Matteson of Campbell.

The honored couple were given a set of International sterling silver for 12 by the guests. On top of the chest containing the silver was an old fashioned bouquet bearing ribbon streamers to which gift cards were attached. Other presents included silver salt and pepper shakers, hammered silver bowls and all steel card table with matching chairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Keesling were married 25 years ago in Oakland just after the bride arrived from Indiana. Since then they have made their home in San Jose and for the past 12 years have lived in Campbell.

BABY GIRL BORN TO CARTERS

The many friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Al Carter are enjoying the unique birth announcements recently received which tell of the arrival of a baby daughter, Aug. 10 at O'Connor Hospital. Made as a replica of a theater ticket, the novel announcement reads: "Velma and Al Carter present the new and howling success, 'The Heir to the Carter Millions' starring Kathryn Gayle Carter at Dr. Stork Theater". Further data is given on the stub and "the management reserves the right to cancel personal appearances of the star if she is asleep".

GRUB CONTROL PROGRAM DOUBLED

Cattle grub control was markedly extended in 1946. Nearly twice the number of cattle were treated this year as compared to 1945, according to Dr. Kenneth G. McKay, extension veterinarian who directed the control program.

Total of 215,706 beef and dairy cattle were sprayed, compared with 123,000 in 1945. This work was spread over 45 counties in 1946 compared with 37 counties the previous year, with 3,028 ranchers cooperating in the program.

The animals were dipped or sprayed with rotenone.

The wide cooperation of producers in control of cattle grubs this year proves they are aware of the economic loss from attacks on dairy and beef animals.

The Santa Clara County cattlemen are very interested in the control of cattle grub, and to date over 3000 head of local cattle have been sprayed. November 15 is the time in the fall to spray for the first wave of grubs that appear from the backs of the cattle.

It is hoped by careful planning that sections of the county can stamp out this parasite by cooperative action. Two consecutive years of spraying will eliminate this costly parasite. Rotenone is the basic spray insecticide used for the spraying of the animals. Further information is obtainable from M. S. Beckley, Assistant Farm Advisor of the Agricultural Extension Service, at 201 Post Office Building, San Jose, or call Columbia 3866.

ON GUARD FOR TOMATO PESTS

The critical period for control of tomato pests in commercial planting is at hand. Tomato russet mites, hornworms, corn ear worms, army worms, and potato tuber moths will soon be getting in their damage.

G. D. Worswick, of the local Extension Service, states that if control measures are neglected all of the worms become more serious as the season progresses. Insecticides must be applied on time to prevent damage from building up of the pest populations.

Research on use of new insecticides for control of tomato pests and better methods of application of the old standard insecticides is being conducted this season in tomato fields of California. Object of the studies is to discover and prove more effective methods of control with greater safety to livestock and honey bees.

The work will be under direction of A. E. Michelbacher of the Experiment Station, College of Agriculture.

Information on the control practices for tomato russet mites, hornworms, corn ear worms, army worms, and potato tuber moths is obtainable at the Extension Service office, 201 Post Office Building, San Jose.

ATTRACTIVE FROZEN FRUIT

Apricots, peaches, nectarines... all make excellent frozen fruit. But you will want your frozen fruit to be attractive and that makes it necessary to keep it from becoming dark.

Winifred Jecker, home demonstration agent, tells how to do this. She says the best way is to cut the fruit to be frozen directly into a cold sirup and pack with enough sirup to completely cover the fruit, pushing down any fruit that floats. If the fruit sticks out of the sirup it will darken. Then freeze it promptly.

After the fruit has been taken out of the freezing storage, do not open the container or the cellophane bag until the fruit has thawed and is ready to use. Then use it as soon as it is thawed.

And there you have a nice fresh flavor and color.

Incidentally, have you got your copy of the extension circular, Freezing Storage? It contains the answers to many things you will want to know about freezing foods for storage. You get your copy by simply asking for it at the Agricultural Extension Service, 201 Post Office Bldg., San Jose.

Death Takes Dr. Minehart

become resistant to tartar emetic.

In cases where DDT will be used for control of citrus thrips this summer, the Citrus Experiment Station of the University of California suggests four pounds of actual DDT in 100 gallons of water per acre applied with a spray duster. This would mean eight pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT.

Preliminary studies with DDT indicate that four per cent DDT-talc mixture applied at the rate of 100 pounds per acre offers promise in control of citrus thrips during the summer season. More work is necessary to determine the most satisfactory diluting materials and most effective concentration of DDT in mixtures. Further studies are in progress.

DDT has not been as effective as nicotine-sugar sprays in control of citrus thrips in Central California during the summer season.

SLEEPING SICKNESS STUDY

Cooperation of farmers is sought in a study of sleeping sickness, encephalitis, in livestock now being undertaken by the State Department of Public Health.

Several cases have already been reported this year in interior valley section both in livestock and humans. Accurate information is not available on animal cases, but probably close to 1,000 occurred.

Encephalitis is a mosquito-borne disease of which much more is to be learned about its manner of transmission and methods of control. Infections appear first in mosquitoes, next in horses, and several weeks later in humans.

The Department of Health is seeking the answers to many questions. Several known kinds of encephalitis occur in different parts of the world. Two of them are known in California. Are there other types? Where do mosquitoes get their infection in the first place? How can the mosquitoes be eradicated effectively and economically? There are many more questions to be answered.

In order for the work to be effective, all cases of encephalitis must be promptly reported. Complete and accurate information concerning animals cases is of great importance. Ranchers are asked to notify veterinarians immediately of suspected cases among animals. Veterinarians are requested to collect blood specimens for laboratory study.

Fairchild says he intends to loaf and fish for a while before entering another field of business.

Pumps (like people) need A PERIODIC CHECK-UP...

Many California farmers are pumping more water today, at less cost for electricity, because they have taken advantage of P. G. & E.'s free irrigation engineering services.

Pumps can lose some of their efficiency after extended use over a period of time, so it's well to give them an occasional check-up. Even though the cost of electricity now is lower than ever, you may need even less power if your pump is performing at its best.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company's irrigation engineers will be glad to consult with you on your irrigation problems—to help you determine the efficiency of your plant and the best methods of operating it.

For maintenance and repairs on your pump, see your dealer.

California Press Anniversary

ing a doctor, lawyer, and dentist was an accomplished typesetter, editor and pressman. They uncovered a broken down press brought to California 12 years before by Thomas Shaw, a Boston merchant, and odds and ends of type faces.

The first issue of four pages, 11½ by 10½ inches had two column pages and was printed in cigarette paper. Its home was the second floor of the Customs House.

Contents of Paper
In addition to the "prospectus" in the first column, the rest of the front page was devoted to Commodore Sloat's proclamation read a month before, and the second page contained Spanish translations of the more important items carried in the newspaper. The rest of the first edition contained "late news" in the form of clippings from a New York Herald three months old, and several local items. There was one advertisement by an enterprising American lad who offered his service as an interpreter.

Subscription rates announced in the first issue were $5 a year or 12½ cents a copy.

The Californian continued under joint ownership of Colton and Semple until April 17, 1847, which is the last issue that bears their names together as publishers. After that Dr. Semple remained alone as publisher. In May, 1947, he moved the Californian to San Francisco. It continued as a weekly until December, 1848, when it was absorbed by the Californian Star. Colton returned to the East and apparently dismissed all thoughts of California and the newspaper business which he helped start.

Statement of Policy
We reprint below the statement of policy as it appeared in the left hand column of the first Californian newspaper, the Monterey Californian, founded Aug. 15, 1846, by Walter Colton and Dr. Robert Semple.

PROSPECTUS
This is the first paper ever published in California and though issued upon a small sheet, is intended it shall contain matter that will be read with interest. The principles which will govern us in conducting it, can be set forth in a few words.

We shall advocate an oblivion of all past political offenses and allow every man the privilege of entering this news era of events unembarrassed by any part he may have taken in previous revolutions.

We shall maintain freedom of speech and the press, and those great principles of religious toleration, which allow every man to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience.

We shall advocate such a system of public instruction as will bring the means of a good practical education to every child in California.

We shall urge the immediate establishment of a well organized government and a universal obedience to its laws.

We shall encourage immigration, and take special pains to point out to agricultural immigrants those sections of unoccupied lands where the fertility of the soil will most amply repay the labors of the husbandman.

We shall encourage domestic manufactures and the mechanic arts as sources of private wealth, individual comfort and indispensable to the public prosperity.

We shall go for California—for all her interest, social, civil and religious—encouraging everything that promote these, resisting everything that can do them harm. This press shall be free and independent; unawed by power and untrammelled by party. The use of its columns shall be denied to none, who have suggestions to make, promotive to the public weal.

We shall lay before our readers the freshest domestic intelligence and the earliest foreign news.

MARRIAGE LICENSE ISSUED
A marriage license has been issued to Richard M. Liles and Ivis B. Grew, both of Campbell.

Where To Go-- What To See

Variety is not only the spice of life, but of any weekend in California, and the weekend of Aug. 16, 17, 18, is no exception. The Travel and Recreation Committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce offers the following suggestions to those who would "get away from it all" and take to the highways and byways.

There's the Humboldt County Fair at Ferndale, Aug. 13-18; the Plumas County Fair at Quincy, Aug. 16-18; the 6th Annual Horse Show of San Francisco Horsemen's Association at San Francisco, Aug. 17-18; Emeryville's "Golden Jubilee Rodeo" at Oakland Ball Park, Aug. 17-18; the Tournament of Lights at Newport Beach, Saturday night, Aug. 17; the gay "Fiesta de la Luna" at Chula Vista, Aug. 15-16; the Newport Harbor Yacht Club's Race Week at Balboa, Aug. 16-18. Yes, there's something for everyone, from horse lovers to sailing enthusiasts, and including deer hunters!

The deer hunting sason is on in Districts 2, 2½, 3, 3½, 4½, and 101, from the northern lines of Mendocino and Glenn Counties, south to Orange County and east to the Sacramento River and Highway 99. This season runs from Aug. 7 to Sept. 15.

Horse racing at Del Mar Turf Club, Del Mar, until Sept. 14.

Ferndale: One of the oldest of California's county fairs, the Humboldt County Fair will be held this year from Aug. 13 to 18. Livestock, poultry, horticultural and domestic sciences, dairy products and other exhibits, horse show, horse racing, Future Farmers and 4-H competitions, carnival attractions. The first anniversary of V-J Day will be celebrated during the Fair dates, with the spotlight turned on all veterans exhibiting and attending.

Quincy: The Plumas County Fair, Aug. 16-18, will present a first class list of exhibitions in livestock, agriculture, poultry, horticulture, etc. In addition there will be a horse show, dancing, carnival features and a good time for all who attend this real county fair.

San Francisco: The San Francisco Horsemen's Association presents its Sixth Annual Horse Show, Aug. 17 and 18 at the Polo Field Stadium in Golden Gate Park. $12,000 in stakes and trophies will be awarded. All classes will participate and the show will open Saturday morning, Aug. 17 at 9:30 a. m., with judging of conformation of horses in the hunter and stock classes. Matinees at 1:30 p. m. both days. Grand entry parade, Sunday matinee.

Emeryville: Emeryville celebrates its Golden Jubilee on Aug. 17 and 18 with a "Golden Jubilee Rodeo" at Oakland Ball Park. The show, put on by Harry Rowell, one of the foremost rodeo producers in the country, will feature some of the nation's outstanding cowboy riders competing in all rodeo events. Shows will begin at 2:15 p. m. each day and all proceeds will be donated to charity.

Newport Beach: Tournament of Lights, Saturday night, Aug. 17. One of the loveliest spectacles which can be found anywhere will delight the eyes of those visitors to Newport Beach on Saturday, Aug. 17. Numerous yachts and water craft, decoratively illuminated, make a beautiful picture as they encircle the bay at Newport Beach.

Chula Vista: Fiesta de la Luna (Feast of the Moon), Aug. 15 through 18. Originated many years ago but suspended during the war, the fiesta will be resumed as an all-out four-day celebration following a Spanish - Mexican theme with everyone in costume. Opening on Thursday, Aug. 15, with a grand parade, the program will continue throughout the balance of the week, featuring a "fiesta musicale", whickerino contest and kangaroo court, strolling troubadours, free acts and entertainment, street folk dancing, flower, art and baby shows, a western horse show, and old fashioned box social.

Newport Beach: Newport Harbor Yacht Club Race Week, Aug. 16 through 18. On of the greatest assemblages of racing yachts will compete in all classes.

ENTERTAIN RELATIVES

Recently entertained for three days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peck were Mrs. Peck's cousin and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arnett of Tulsa, Okla. They were accompanied by their two sons, Keith and Bill. Arnett is a florist and he and his family are making a combined business and pleasure trip which has already taken them to Boulder Dam, Grand Canyon and Los Angeles, and which will include Washington, Oregon, parts of Canada, Yellowstone Park and Jackson Hole before returning to their home.

The Pecks' son-in-law, Lt. J. Hugh Rincon, is in Clovis, New Mexico, where he has gone to recover his personal effects left there when he flew north for a weekend on the ill-fated B-17 which crashed in Marin County last May. On his return he will re-enter Letterman Hospital for a scheduled operation as a result of injuries suffered in the plane crash.

FLOWERS IN A CITY HALL

Next week San Francisco will offer something unique to visitors and home folks alike—a municipally sponsored flower show held in a city hall.

On Aug. 21-22, the San Francisco Flower Show, Inc., a non-profit organization, will pack the huge rotunda of the City Hall with choice blooms to demonstrate to the city and its neighbors the horticultural wealth and beauty which has made San Francisco famous.

The flower show will be a truly municipal event, for the Board of Supervisors has appropriated nearly $10,000 to make it a success. It should be a colorful affair.

With Lana Turner and John Garfield to exploit as playing the lethal lovers in James M. Cain's novel, the exhibitor of this attraction is confronted by no ticket-selling problem, save that of making certain that the tickets don't get sold to children. Like the book—and Arthur Cain obviously didn't intend it to take a place alongside "Alice in Wonderland" in the kiddies' department of the town library—the picture is strictly adult. Harry Ruskin and Niven Busch extracted the material for their slick, tricky and pungent script.

In common with other camera studies of evil coming from the production line recently, this one features sinful characters and probes with elaborate painstaking the objectives and the processes, even the ways and means, of their sinning.

It was Cain's point, in his book, that you can't miss the postman, because he always rings twice, this observation deriving from an old, colloquial and obsolete English proverb. And if you have read the book, and cherish proverbs, you can manage to connect the murder in the first part of the picture with the bum rap in the last part.

It's that kind of a picture, with Miss Turner a sight for tired eyes in her brief bathing suit, and skin-drawn dresses.

Carey Wilson, who used to make "Crime Does Not Pay" shorts for MGM, produced the picture, and Tay Garnett directed it.
